While every year feels special, we are so excited to be celebrating 90 years of Michigan Hillel.

When we began to collect 90 years of stories from alumni (that we look forward to sharing throughout this year) we didn't imagine how they would transport us to another time. Stories of alumni who had to drop out of school during the Depression era. Stories of war veterans studying after WWII on G.I. Bills. Stories of the "hop" to kick off the new school year. Stories of organizing through the "Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry". Stories of gathering as a community on 9/11, and then again for its 10 year anniversary on the Diag.

While the historic moments came and went, so much remains constant.

Generations of students found a sense of community and belonging, meeting their closest friends, and even their spouses, at Hillel.

Generations of students sought new opportunities to explore their identity, be challenged by new ideas, and consider what it means to be a Jewish adult making Jewish choices for themselves for the first time.

Generations of students felt challenged in their leadership roles, empowered by the opportunities Hillel offered, and elated by program successes.

Generations of students deeply felt what was happening in Israel. They celebrated its highs and mourned during its lows. They struggled during its various wars and felt impacted by criticism of Israel on campus, whether during the first intifada, battling the Michigan Daily, or the latest divestment challenges debated in student government.

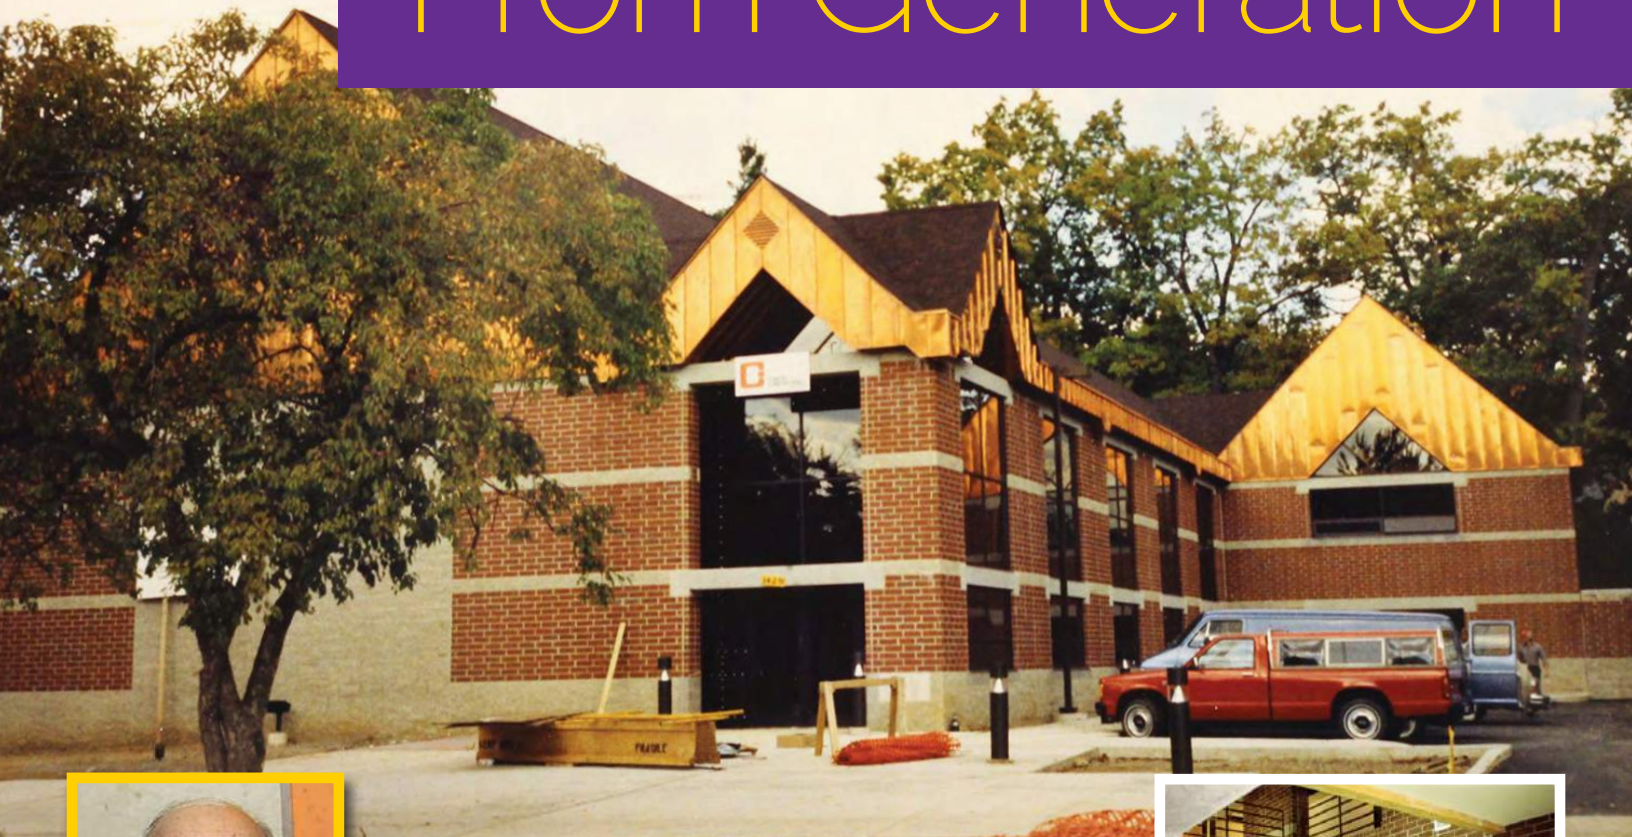

In this year's annual report, you will see all the ways our students keep our rich traditions going strong, like the Golden Apple Award, Holocaust Survivors Luncheon, and First Year Students of Hillel (FYSH) programming. You'll also see all the ways in which they are reshaping traditions to reflect today's world – with ShabUM dinners across campus reaching over 1,000 students in one Friday night, or our jNET interns bringing Jewish programming to their peers in Greek houses, or students taking Selfies in the Sukkah. These are all ways in which students are making Judaism their own through our Hillel today.

Through it all, Hillel's mission – to enrich the lives of Jewish students so that they may enrich the Jewish people and the world – remains relevant from December 12, 1926 to 2016 and beyond. We look forward to seeing what impact on the Jewish community and the world this next generation will bring in our 90th year.

Tilly Shames

Executive Director

From Generation

I am immensely proud of the University of Michigan Hillel and all it has accomplished over the years. Since I first became involved in the 1980s, I have seen the Hillel grow, first under the direction of Michael Brooks and now with Tilly Shames as its Executive Director. Both of them, and countless student leaders, have led this Hillel to be one of the best in the country.

I had the pleasure of building Michigan Hillel, alongside Stanley Frankel, in the 1980s. I co-chaired the committee that brought Hillel International from under the auspices of B'nai B'rith to its current independent status. I continue to support (and am immensely proud of) the Berman Fellows, who work with Hillel's many student group leaders to bring programming to campus.

Although I have been involved as a leader in Michigan Hillel for over 30 years, my enthusiasm and excitement for all that Hillel accomplishes has never diminished. It has only grown over time as I see what this Hillel continues to achieve. I am delighted to celebrate its 90th year, along with the thousands of students and alumni who have been touched by this organization.

Bill Berman

Board of Trustees, Honorary Chair

to Generation

The beginning of a new semester brings many opportunities: new classes, new friends, a new perspective for the year ahead. As the new Chairman of the University of Michigan Hillel's Board of Trustees, I am thrilled to be a part of the constantly changing and evolving Jewish community at the University of Michigan.

Change can be a cause for uncertainty, but it can also be a cause for celebration and innovation. As a hub for cultural, social, and educational experiences, our Hillel is always improving, innovating, and informing. And even as it explores ways to evolve, it always remains a constant on campus -- providing a home for Jewish students and a place for them to develop on a personal level.

Even as the world around us changes too, I am confident that under the direction of our incredible Executive Director, Tilly Shames, the talented staff, and our student-led Governing Board, the University of Michigan Jewish community adapts and grows stronger. In spite of ever-changing and diverse sentiments on campus, Hillel remains a proponent for positive change, and hopefully this attitude will influence the community at large.

I look forward to serving the interests and needs of both you and our students as Chair over the next two years. And I am even more excited to see what types of changes we, as University of Michigan Hillel supporters, can make for the better.

Bob Stone

Board of Trustees, Chair

During my time at U of M, Hillel has evolved, but my feelings remain the same: I have a home here. Hillel has provided me with a community unmatched in challenges and rewards. At Hillel, I enjoy a delicious Shabbat meal with 300 peers, discuss diversity within Judaism, or pleasantly procrastinate from studying with friends. On campus I see familiar faces from our close-knit Jewish community, and I am proud to be a part of the Hillel family.

The comfort I feel at Hillel is surpassed only by the opportunities I have had. We have partnered with other student organizations to work on projects from raising awareness about sexual assault to a TEDx conference. Our student leaders plan incredible programs and I have learned leadership skills through these experiences.

I grudgingly tell people that I am a senior, because it is difficult to come to terms with having only one more year at this wonderful university. Saying 'bye to Hillel makes it that much harder.

Bayit (House)

In September 2015, Michigan Hillel piloted a jNET (Jewish Network) House called "Bayit," as an initiative of Michigan Hillel's jNET Engagement and Entrepreneurship Fellowship. This apartment provided a space for a second year jNET fellow, Sierra Lash, and her roommates, Sophie Lev, Sophie Burton, and Emma Silverman to create meaningful Jewish gatherings outside of the Hillel building for their peers who otherwise may not access Hillel.

"Although I was originally wary of all of the effort that would go into hosting a number of Jewish events, it couldn't possibly have been a more rewarding experience. Creating a group of Jewish friends who would come together for the purpose of celebrating Jewish holidays and practicing Jewish traditions is not something I expected to experience in college; however, being able to have consistent Shabbat dinners made me feel more at home than I have ever felt here. Our community was so grateful for the events and my favorite moments were when friends would say that they felt lucky to have Bayit. Without it, they wouldn't have otherwise commemorated the holiday that we were celebrating. This was a truly enriching experience and I feel lucky to have been a part of the pilot program that created a community which wants to continue to make Shabbat dinner and other Jewish events a part of their school routine."

FYSH Apple Picking

FYSH is a central Hillel program aimed at introducing first year students to everything Hillel has to offer. From ice cream outings to Hanukkah parties, a dedicated group of sophomores ensure year after year that the newest students are welcomed to Hillel with open arms and engaging programs.

Last fall, first year students enjoyed apple picking at a local cider mill followed by pie baking in the homes of FYSH leaders!

Culture Cohort

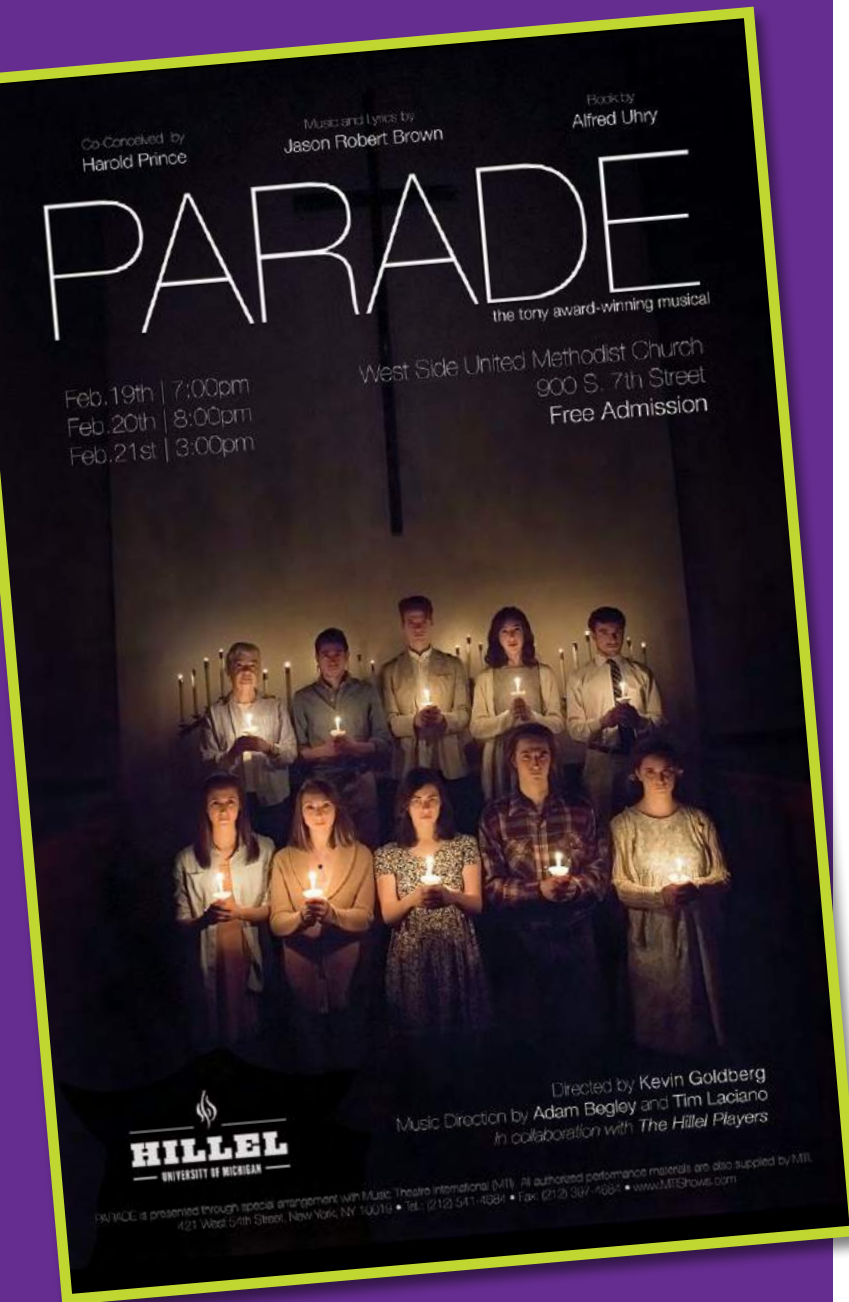

The Hillel Players

"Parade," the Tony Award-winning musical, tells the story of Leo Frank, a northern Jew who is put on trial for the murder of a 13-year-old child in 1913. Already guilty in the eyes of his "peers," a sensationalist publisher, and false testimony, his fate is sealed. His only defenders are a governor with a conscious and, eventually, his assimilated Southern wife who finds strength and love to become his greatest champion.

Although taking place 100 years ago, the themes of this show are still quite relevant to our society today. Working with Hillel, we were able to produce a successful show that challenged the audience to wrestle with the idea of the "other" and to look introspectively at the themes presented. Communities from all over campus – including people from varying backgrounds and familiarity with this work – were brought together to create this piece and share in the experience of performing in or viewing the work, which cultivated a strong sense of togetherness.

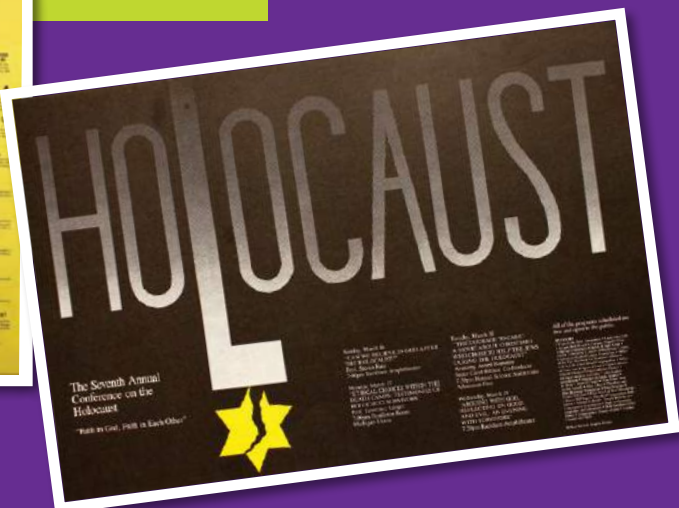

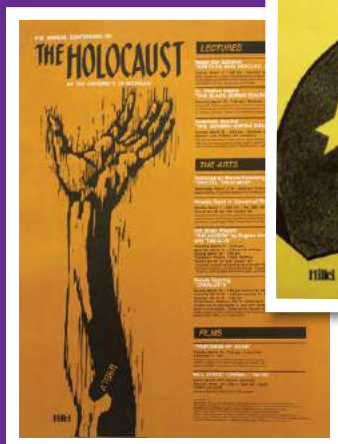

Producing this show, for me, was incredibly stressful and time-consuming. It was also one of the most rewarding experiences of my college career. I am so grateful for the opportunity to add "producer" to my Hillel resume.

Students for Holocaust Awareness, Remembrance, and Education (SHARE)

This past year, the student leaders of COTH (Conference on the Holocaust) chose to change the group's name to SHARE – Students for Holocaust Awareness, Remembrance, and Education. The intention of the name change is to honor COTH's important past while expanding the group's educational goals and connection to living survivors. SHARE continues COTH's annual luncheon at Hillel for students to meet survivors and the annual reading of the names on the Diag of those who died in the Holocaust. SHARE has expanded their efforts to ensure students can have ongoing relationships with local survivors in our community as well as frequent discussions and educational opportunities about the Holocaust. We are delighted SHARE has added a new feature to host several lunches for small groups of students to meet with local survivors.

Good Deeds Day

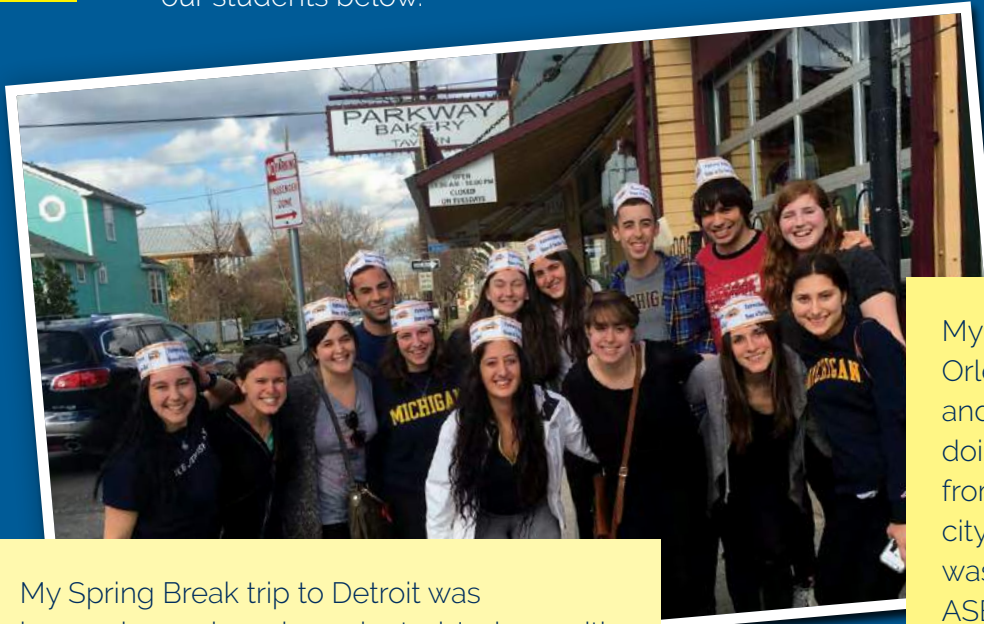

On April 10, 2016 our Hillel community participated in Good Deeds Day, an international day of community service and a global movement committed to "doing good." Over 70 students took a finals study break and volunteered their time through 10 different service projects including: playing BINGO with the elderly at a nursing home, beautifying the Botanical Gardens, tutoring elementary school students at the Ann Arbor District Library, assisting children with special needs at a gymnastics center, and distributing water to the residents of Flint. At the end of the day, we all joined together to share stories about the meaningful work we took part in. It was an amazing day where students committed themselves to Tikkun Olam and made our world a better place!

Sarah Parkes ('18)

Alternative Spring Break

This past year, Hillel sent over 20 students on Alternative Spring Break (ASB) trips. Read about the immense impact these experiences had on our students below.

My Spring Break trip to Detroit was immersive and service-oriented. I, along with eight others, worked with several different organizations that deal with different issues plaguing the city, from food justice to land and water rights. We worked especially closely with children in the city's broken school system, running in-school and after-school programming for elementary and middle school students. During our trip, we constantly reflected on our role as volunteers in the city for the week. We came to the conclusion that once we support what the people truly want, maybe then we will see the injustices subside.

Rebecca Tarnopol ('19)

My experience with ASB New Orleans was both intentional and effortless. Whether we were doing service work, learning from experts, or touring the city, each activity in our agenda was an enriching experience. ASB New Orleans is something I will reflect upon as a great moment in my personal growth. I am forever grateful for the experiences I gained and thank all those who so generously supported our trip.

Dialogue and Identity

Scholar in Residence with Yavilah McCoy

Yavilah McCoy, an African-American Jewish activist, came to Hillel over Shabbat and gave a phenomenal presentation to an engaged audience about comprehending and effectively taking action about multiracial, multifait, and multicultural differences with justice. Using an excerpt of Torah, McCoy had her audience collaboratively discussing identity and exploring people's tendency to ineffectively rescue others they deem in need. The most effective strategy at helping others is talking to them, building relationships, and figuring out their real needs, rather than jumping to conclusions. Through McCoy's wise and warm personality, she stimulated thought-provoking conversations, and positively impacted everyone in attendance.

Israel Uncovered

Israel Uncovered is a 10-day trip to Israel, through The David Project. It aims to bring together Jewish and non-Jewish campus student leaders, exposing them to the many layers and complexities of Israeli society. Student leaders come back to campus full of stories, experiences, and a better understanding of Israel they draw upon to teach their peers. This past year, Michigan Hillel sent 20 students from all areas of campus on the Israel Uncovered trip, including 15 non-Jewish leaders and five Jewish leaders.

Resetting the Table

Michigan Hillel was selected to participate in a fellowship with Resetting the Table (RTT), an initiative of the JCPA and Hillel International. This program brings Jewish students on campus together to speak about their relationship to Israel across different backgrounds and views. Two fellows and a staff member attended an intensive workshop and retreat with a "focus on creating channels for participant expression, recognition, honesty, and curiosity." The fellows then brought the learning and resources back to campus to facilitate small group sessions with Hillel leaders, and ran a 3-part dialogue series.

Resetting The Table gave me a space and tools to lean into the discomfort of disagreement and challenge the way I constructed my beliefs, ethics, and desires for Israel. In RTT, I found a community of young Jewish adults that were willing to ask good questions and explore their hopes, fears, and most salient experiences of Israel together with me.

Hillel Hoops

Marc Schlessel ('16) was talking with Max, a Berman Fellow, about his interest in basketball and a desire to strengthen the Hillel community. Max reserved court time at a local elementary school and encouraged Marc to invite some friends to play pickup basketball. The invitation opened up to the whole Hillel community and with that - Hillel Hoops was born! Interest continued to grow each week, so much so that the games moved from the elementary school to a local high school. It is incredibly exciting that Hillel Hoops has become one of our newest student-led groups.

2016 Veteran's Ice Arena B League Champs

I have been a member of the Hillel Hockey Team for three seasons, each of which ended without very many wins or playoff appearances. However, for my senior season, our team made the playoffs! We won the first series in three hard fought games. The second round was certainly a nail biter, winning in TRIPLE overtime. Donning our championship hats, we skated to center ice and as one team, huddled close for our team picture, which encapsulated our incredible journey as champions of the league! We hope to repeat that title this coming season, as back-to-back champions!

Evan Gerstein ('16)

Matisyahu

On April 4th, Hillel partnered with the Michigan student organization, MUSIC Matters, to host music artists Matisyahu and Nadim Azzam at Hill Auditorium. Throughout the first several months of 2016, Matisyahu toured with Nadim, an Ann Arbor native, through several different college campuses with the mission of promoting coexistence and open dialogue. Matisyahu brought a full band along with him, playing a unique blend of rock music, reggae, and beat-boxing. Nadim is a singer/song-writer with a focus on hip-hop, pop, and alternative genres. Students could purchase tickets for just $5 and the proceeds of the show were put towards the MUSIC Matters Big Thinkers Scholarship, an endowed scholarship given to a different Michigan student every year.

Along with the musical performance, Matisyahu held a post-show dialogue with students to discuss prevalent issues pertaining to the theme of coexistence. Students had the opportunity to ask Matisyahu questions and learn more about his experiences as a Jewish musical artist. This provided a unique opportunity for the student body to enjoy great music and partake in an educational conversation as well.

Kol Hakavod

This past year, KHK, University of Michigan Hillel's a capella group, competed in Kol Haolam, a national Jewish a capella competition. Before going onstage, we all took a moment to appreciate the hard work needed to get to that moment.

And, when we got on stage, we celebrated and sang, proud to share all that we arranged. Despite not placing in the top 3, our group came out of this experience much stronger than we came in. We look forward to future years where we can take what we learned to achieve a higher level of performance. In the end, we all had a great weekend sharing our love of singing and Judaism with the other groups, and we cannot wait to go back.

Second Annual ShabUM (Sha-BOOM)

On Friday, November 20, 2015, more than 1,000 students participated in our Second Annual ShabUM as Hillel closed its doors for the evening and over 50 Shabbat dinners were held in dorms, apartments, and houses across campus.

"It was a lot of fun to have friends over for Shabbat dinner! I had never hosted a Shabbat dinner since coming to college, and enjoyed welcoming people into my home to eat, talk, and relax. It really showed me the value of hosting."

Noah Betman ('17)

"My ShabUM was a special night because I got to host a reunion with my birthright trip – something we had not done yet. We all sat around in a circle together and talked about moments from our trip; we laughed a lot. It was a great environment to see everyone."

Emma Silverman ('17)

"It was great having everyone in DKE come together to celebrate Shabbat. It felt like a nice, smaller Jewish community came together to celebrate something bigger, and something very special."

Selfies in the Sukkah

On Sunday, October 4th, Hillel hosted a "Sukkah Selfie" Instagram contest. Posing with fun signage such as "shake it like a lulav" and "etrog>lemon," students published photos of themselves in the sukkah to their own Instagram accounts and tagged @michiganhillel. The contest intended to promote Michigan Hillel's Instagram account while getting students involved in growing its presence. The student who received the most likes on their "Sukkah Selfie" received a free meal at the Hillel Café, an incentive not easily passed up.

Megillah Madness

Madness ensued last Purim at "Megillah Madness," Hillel's annual dance. Students enjoyed themselves with delicious hamantaschen, good music and even a retro photo booth, as they celebrated one of the most fun-filled Jewish holidays of the year.

Our dance took place at the Cavern Club, a chic club in downtown Ann Arbor. Eliana Fishman ('19), who dressed up as a mermaid, shared, "I had such a fun time just being able to dance with my friends and I'm looking forward to celebrating Purim with Michigan Hillel throughout my college years."

Natan Gorod ('18), a member of the event's planning committee, explained, "One of the reasons we decided to have the dance on Purim is because we thought it would be fun for everyone to celebrate in costume." Gorod himself dressed up as "disgust" from the recent film, Inside Out. He concluded, "Everyone I spoke to about the dance said they had an incredible time, and I think I can speak for all of them when I say it was one of Hillel's greatest events of the year."

Birthright

This past summer I went on Birthright with Michigan Hillel. I didn't know anyone on my bus before orientation at Hillel, and while I was a little intimidated, I was determined to make connections and lots of new friends. The only word I can use to describe my experience is "inspiring." Throughout Birthright I learned more about Judaism and I realized how emotionally and spiritually connected I am to Israel. I couldn't have asked for a more fulfilling and rewarding experience and I would do it all over in a heartbeat.

Israel Day on the Diag

Not only is Israel Day on the Diag a celebration of tastes, smells and everything Israel, but it is also a celebration of unity. For this event, all the pro-Israel groups on campus came together to celebrate Israel and its rich culture. Students walking through campus could stop by and learn about Israeli innovation, enjoy Israeli food, and dance to some Israeli music. It was a lot of fun!

AIPAC Leadership Award

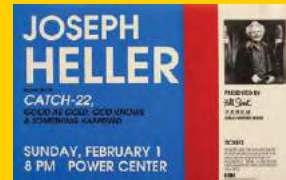

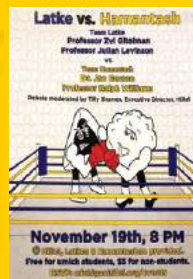

The Duke Rudman Leadership Award is the highest honor presented to the campus that has worked to create a model for pro-Israel political activism on their campus. Winning this award at AIPAC Policy Conference last year was an amazing experience that acknowledged our hard work on campus. As pro-Israel activists at Michigan, we work tirelessly to ensure that students on campus see Israel through our perspective and fully understand the significance of the U.S.-Israel relationship. Winning this award empowers us to continue moving forward. Over the last few years at Michigan, pro-Israel and Jewish students have felt attacked for their beliefs in a multitude of forms from an "apartheid wall" in the center of the Diag to mock eviction letters delivered to dorms across campus and the proposal of BDS multiple times. This award solidifies our hard work and encourages us to support Israel on campus.

Natalie Bloom ('17)

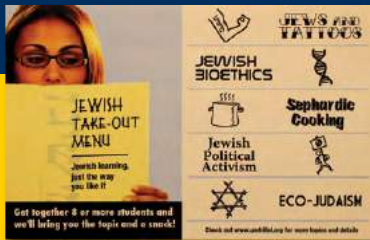

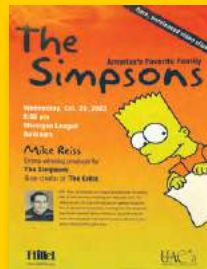

"Since graduating from Michigan, I've had amazing opportunities that were possible only as a result of my experiences with University of Michigan Hillel. The staff, programs, and fellow students embrace the tensions of living in a complicated world; not being content to settle with the status quo but exploring opportunities to make communities and the world a more just and fair place."

Perry Teicher ('07 and '15)

"The University of Michigan Hillel, through its breadth of programming, student groups and religious-life, provided me the opportunity to define my Judaism and who I wanted to be as a Jew. The lessons learned and friendships made at Hillel helped shape me as a person."

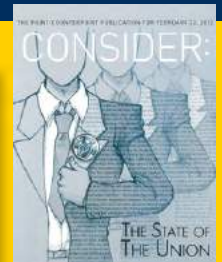

Jeff Schluskel ('95)

A Look Back Jewish Life

"The University of Michigan Hillel had a profound impact on my campus experience and my professional development. Hillel provided a safe place to explore new ideas and learn organizational skills through a multitude of student groups."

Lorne Zalesin ('88 and '94)

"Michigan Hillel served as my laboratory for challenging myself and my community during my time on campus. And ever since, the connections I made continue to guide me on my Jewish journey. I was always amazed at how Hillel found ways to participate in all corners of campus, influencing students from all backgrounds even outside of Hillel's official building walls. And, I'll always be grateful for having a spiritual center and delicious Shabbat dinner every single week."

Jenna Weinberg ('11)

"As student president of Michigan Hillel in the 60's, I began a Jewish journey that has led me to ever greater involvement in Jewish life and Jewish communal organizations. Michigan Hillel will always have a special place in my heart."

Ron Glancz ('64 and '68)

at 90 Years of on Campus

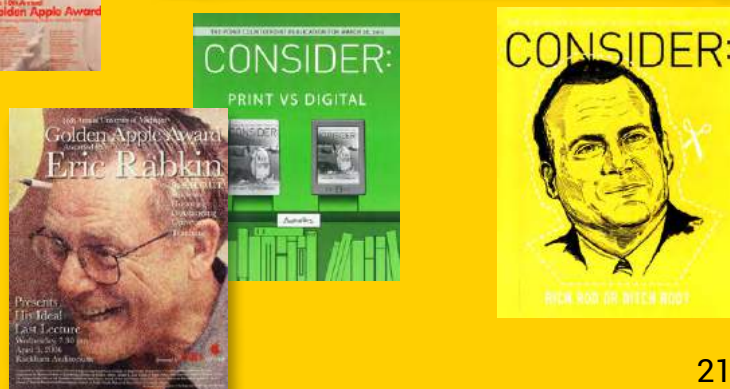

"From pro-Israel activism to governing board to Consider, Hillel gave me so many opportunities to develop the skills to become a Jewish leader. My path to public service in the United States Congress really started at Michigan Hillel."

"Birthright changed my life."

"Hillel provides a community for all who desire, and empowers those who get involved."

"Survivors Luncheon, an annual event in which Holocaust survivors from the metro Detroit area come and share their stories with the students, has piqued my interest in being involved with Holocaust awareness and education on Michigan's campus."

"Shabbat dinner is always a welcoming and inclusive environment. I look forward to it every week."

"The U of M Hillel staff is great :) supportive, open, and genuinely cares."

Enriching the lives of Jewish students so that they may enrich the Jewish people and the world.

"I'd like to thank Hillel for constantly opening doors for me and giving me the chance to connect to some really special people during my time in college."

"Being far away from home during the start of my Freshman year, especially during the high holidays, would have been really difficult; but having Hillel services, meals, and friends so easily accessible allowed me to continue having a meaningful holiday experience."

"Hayerukim, the environmental club at Hillel, has made a huge impact on my college experience."

"jNET and planning Alternative Spring Break to New Orleans allowed me to develop my leadership skills and realize what is truly important to me."

"Kol HaKavod has been one of, if not the most, important experience I've had in college."

The above are student quotes from Michigan Hillel's 2016 Measuring Excellence Survey.

The Michigan Hillel Annual Report is published once a year by Michigan Hillel.
